NOTE 1 – BASIS OF PRESENTATION:

Graham Corporation's (the "Company's") Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements include its (i) wholly-owned foreign subsidiary located in Suzhou, China; and (ii) wholly-owned domestic subsidiary located in Lapeer, Michigan. The Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the U.S. ("GAAP") for interim financial information and the instructions to Form 10-Q and Rule 10-01 of Regulation S-X, each as promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Company's Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements do not include all information and notes required by GAAP for complete financial statements. The unaudited Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet as of March 31, 2015 presented herein was derived from the Company's audited Consolidated Balance Sheet as of March 31, 2015. For additional information, please refer to the consolidated financial statements and notes included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2015 ("fiscal 2015"). In the opinion of management, all adjustments, including normal recurring accruals considered necessary for a fair presentation, have been included in the Company's Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements.

The Company's results of operations and cash flows for the three and six months ended September 30, 2015 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the current fiscal year, which ends March 31, 2016 ("fiscal 2016").

NOTE 2 – REVENUE RECOGNITION:

The Company recognizes revenue on all contracts with a planned manufacturing process in excess of four weeks (which approximates 575 direct labor hours) using the percentage-of-completion method. The majority of the Company's revenue is recognized under this methodology. The Company has established the systems and procedures essential to developing the estimates required to account for contracts using the percentage-of-completion method. The percentage-of-completion method is determined by comparing actual labor incurred to a specific date to management's estimate of the total labor to be incurred on each contract or completion of operational milestones assigned to each contract. Contracts in progress are reviewed monthly by management, and sales and earnings are adjusted in current accounting periods based on revisions in the contract value and estimated costs at completion. Losses on contracts are recognized immediately when evident to management.

Revenue on contracts not accounted for using the percentage-of-completion method is recognized utilizing the completed contract method. The majority of the Company's contracts (as opposed to revenue) have a planned manufacturing process of less than four weeks and the results reported under this method do not vary materially from the percentage-of-completion method. The Company recognizes revenue and all related costs on these contracts upon substantial completion or shipment to the customer. Substantial completion is consistently defined as at least 95% complete with regard to direct labor hours. Customer acceptance is generally required throughout the construction process and the Company has no further material obligations under its contracts after the revenue is recognized.

Receivables billed but not paid under retainage provisions in the Company's customer contracts were $1,115 and $1,751 at September 30, 2015 and March 31, 2015, respectively.

NOTE 3 – INVESTMENTS:

Investments consist solely of certificates of deposit with financial institutions. All investments have original maturities of greater than three months and less than one year and are classified as held-to-maturity, as the Company believes it has the intent and ability to hold the securities to maturity. The investments are stated at amortized cost which approximates fair value. All investments held by the Company at September 30, 2015 are scheduled to mature on or before August 10, 2016.

NOTE 4 – INVENTORIES:

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost or market, using the average cost method. For contracts accounted for on the completed contract method, progress payments received are netted against inventory to the extent the payment is less than the inventory balance relating to the applicable contract. Progress payments that are in excess of the corresponding inventory balance are presented as customer deposits in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets. Unbilled revenue in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets represents revenue recognized that has not been billed to customers on contracts accounted for on the percentage-of-completion method. For contracts accounted for on the percentage-of-completion method, progress payments are netted against unbilled revenue to the extent the payment is less than the unbilled revenue for the applicable contract. Progress payments exceeding unbilled revenue are netted against inventory to the extent the payment is less than or equal to the inventory balance relating to the applicable contract, and the excess is presented as customer deposits in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets.

Major classifications of inventories are as follows:

	September 30, 2015	March 31, 2015
Raw materials and supplies	$ 1,952	$ 2,763

NOTE 15 – ACCOUNTING AND REPORTING CHANGES:

In the normal course of business, Company management evaluates all new accounting pronouncements issued by the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB"), the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Emerging Issues Task Force, the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants or any other authoritative accounting body to determine the potential impact they may have on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

In May 2014, the FASB issued guidance related to the accounting for revenue from contracts with customers. This guidance establishes principles for reporting information about the nature, amount, timing and uncertainty of revenue and cash flows arising from a company's contracts with customers. The guidance requires companies to apply a five-step model when recognizing revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods and services. The guidance also includes a comprehensive set of disclosure requirements regarding revenue recognition. The provisions of the guidance are effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2017. The Company is currently evaluating the impact this guidance will have on its financial position, results of operations and cash flows. See Note 2 for a description of the Company's current revenue recognition policy.

In June 2015, the FASB issued guidance covering a wide range of topics in the FASB Accounting Standards Codifications (the "Codification"). This guidance included changes to clarify the Codification, correct unintended application of guidance, or make minor improvements to the Codification that are not expected to have a significant effect on current accounting practice or create a significant administrative cost on most entities. The provisions of the guidance are effective for fiscal years, and interim periods within those fiscal years, beginning after December 15, 2015 and early adoption is permitted. The Company is currently assessing the impact this guidance will have on its financial position, results of operations, cash flows and disclosures.

Management does not expect any other recently issued accounting pronouncements, which have not already been adopted, to have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial statements.

Current Market Conditions

Demand for our products and services to the oil refining and chemical industries depends on capital investment for new capacity, retrofit and debottlenecking projects and for planned or unplanned maintenance activity. The significant reduction in global crude oil prices has caused a significant slowdown in investment by our oil refining and chemical industry customers. These markets have altered their investment timing due to this sustained lower price of crude oil. While there has been some reduction in the volatility in these markets recently, with crude oil pricing at current depressed levels, the timing of the investment recovery is uncertain. In the near term, the catalyst for increased investment would likely be higher crude oil prices. However, if crude oil prices remain low for a sustained period, increased global energy demand would likely drive additional investment, regardless of crude oil prices.

Demand for our products and services in the nuclear utility market is affected by investment in maintenance, repair, life extension and nuclear regulatory mandated investment along with global investment in new capacity. We continue to believe the nuclear market provides an important opportunity for growth.

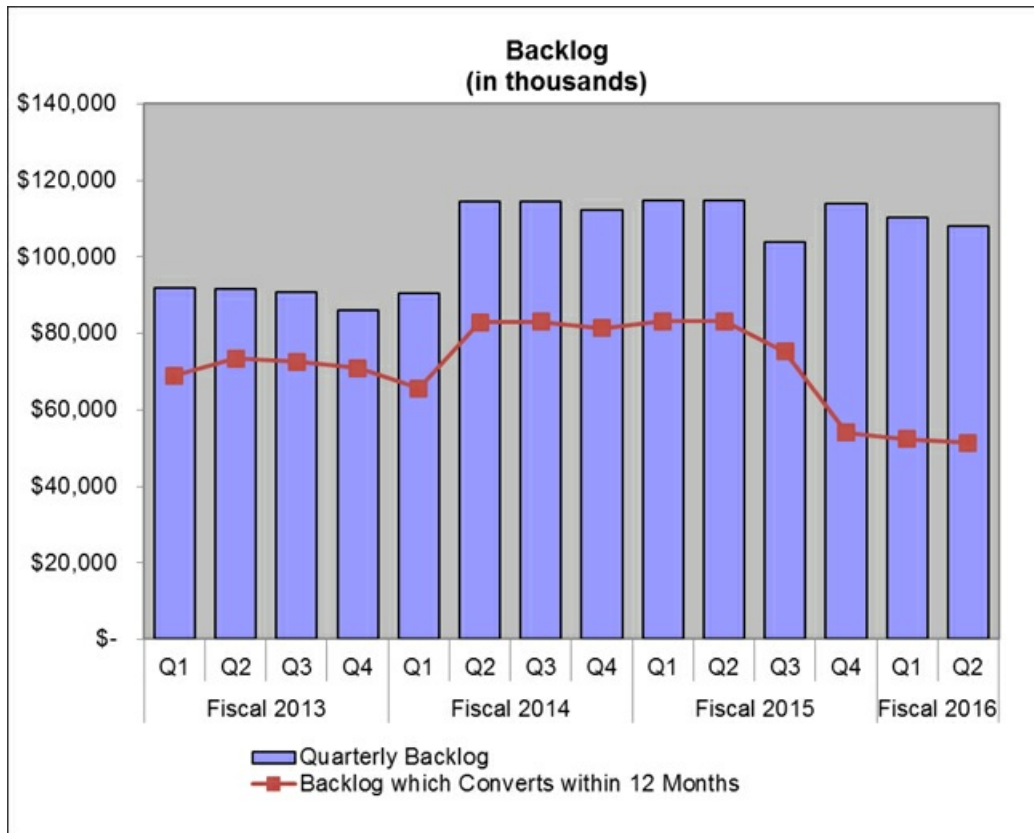

Our naval nuclear propulsion market has demand tied to surface and submarine vessel construction schedules of the primary shipyards who service the U.S. Navy. We expect steady growth in our naval nuclear propulsion business based on our aggressive growth strategy.

Our long-term perspective for oil refining and chemical markets remains optimistic notwithstanding the severity of the current downturn in these markets. We believe that long-term demand drivers are unchanged and have not been affected by the price of crude oil. The demand is driven by increasing global energy needs, rising population growth, and an expanding middle class in emerging markets. Our strategy is to continue to leverage our investments and expand our capabilities and execution capacity to grow market share in the oil refining, chemical and nuclear markets, as well as our business with the U.S. Navy. For more information refer to the heading “Our Strategy” within Item 1 of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for fiscal 2015.

We believe the long-term outlook in our key markets supports our strategy to grow our revenue to over $200,000 across the next cycle. In the near term, new order levels are expected to remain volatile, resulting in both relatively strong and weak periods.

We believe that our backlog is a strong indicator of the strength of our business. To better view the expectations of our business over the next 12 months, the “backlog which converts within 12 months” is an excellent metric. While our backlog has been relatively consistent for the past eight quarters, the portion of it which converts over the next 12 months has declined in the past three quarters. This is a reflection of the continued strength of our overall backlog, which has seen an increase in long lead time orders, namely those from the U.S. Navy, but also the slowdown in the refining and chemical markets which convert more quickly. The latter impact has adversely affected the expected conversion over the next 12 months, resulting in our lower guidance in fiscal 2016 compared with fiscal 2015.

The chart below shows our total backlog for the past 14 quarters, as well as the portion expected to convert within the next 12 months.

The Second Quarter and First Six Months of Fiscal 2016 Compared With the Second Quarter and First Six Months of Fiscal 2015

Sales for the second quarter of fiscal 2016 were $22,798, a 36% decrease as compared with sales of $35,566 for the second quarter of fiscal 2015. These lower sales were a result of the weaker commercial order levels seen in fiscal 2015 compared with a very strong order environment in the first half of fiscal 2014. Our domestic sales, as a percentage of aggregate product sales, were 67% in the second quarter of fiscal 2016 compared with 61% in the second quarter of fiscal 2015. Domestic sales year-over-year decreased $6,637, or 30%, which were impacted by lower chemical and petrochemical market sales. International sales decreased $6,131, or 45%, in the second quarter of fiscal 2016 compared with the second quarter of fiscal 2015, driven by decreases in Asia, South America and Canada. Sales in the three months ended September 30, 2015 were 32% to the refining industry, 32% to the chemical and petrochemical industries, 13% to the power industry, including the nuclear market, and 23% to other commercial and industrial applications, including the U.S. Navy. Sales in the three months ended September 30, 2014 were 35% to the refining industry, 36% to the chemical and petrochemical industries, 16% to the power industry, including the nuclear market, and 13% to other commercial and industrial applications, including the U.S. Navy. Fluctuations in sales among markets, products and geographic locations can vary measurably from quarter-to-quarter based on timing and magnitude of projects. See also “Current Market Conditions,” above. For additional information on anticipated future sales and our markets, see “Orders and Backlog” below.

Sales for the first six months of fiscal 2016 were $50,415, a decrease of $13,653, or 21% compared with sales of $64,068 for the first six months of fiscal 2015. The decrease in year-to-date sales was due to much weaker domestic sales as well as a slowdown in international sales. Our domestic sales, as a percentage of aggregate product sales, were 65% in the first six months of fiscal 2016 compared with 69% in the same period in fiscal 2015. Domestic sales decreased $11,202, or 25%, while international sales decreased by $2,451, or 12%, driven by lower sales in most regions, partly offset by stronger Middle East sales. International sales accounted for 35% and 31% of total sales for the first six months of fiscal 2016 and fiscal 2015, respectively. Sales in the first six months of fiscal 2016 were 30% to the refining industry, 37% to the chemical and petrochemical industries, 13% to the power industry, including the nuclear market, and 20% to other commercial and industrial applications, including the U.S. Navy. Sales in the first six months of fiscal 2015 were 30% to the refining industry, 38% to the chemical and petrochemical industries, 16% to the power industry, including the nuclear market, and 16% to other commercial and industrial applications, including the U.S. Navy.

Table of Contents

Our gross profit margin for the second quarter of fiscal 2016 was 31%, the same as the second quarter of fiscal 2015. The gross margin in the second quarter of fiscal 2016 was higher than expected for the level of revenue achieved. Productivity improvements were realized as the CVN-79 U.S. Navy project neared completion and we received a vendor settlement. Excluding these items, the gross margin would have been approximately 27% to 28%. Very favorable project and product mix specific to this quarter helped improve the margin. Gross profit for the second quarter of fiscal 2016 decreased to $7,135 from $10,984, or 35%, compared with the same period in fiscal 2015. Gross profit dollars decreased due to lower volume.

Our gross profit margin for the first six months of fiscal 2016 was 30%, the same as the first six months of fiscal 2015. Gross profit for the first six months of fiscal 2016 decreased 20%, to $15,172, compared with the same period in fiscal 2015, which had gross profit of $18,916. The decrease in gross profit dollars was due to lower volume.

SG&A expense in the three and six-month periods ended September 30, 2015 decreased $506, or 11%, and $217, or 2%, respectively, compared with the same periods of the prior year primarily due to the restructuring activity that occurred at the end of fiscal 2015. The decreases in SG&A expenses for the three and six-month periods were primarily due to lower sales expenses related to lower volume.

SG&A expense as a percent of sales for the three and six-month periods ended September 30, 2015 was 19% and 18%, respectively. This compared with 13% and 14%, respectively for the same periods of the prior year, where volume was higher.

Interest income was $53 and $105 for the three and six-month periods ended September 30, 2015, compared with $43 and $89 for the same periods ended September 30, 2014. The low level of interest income relative to the amount of cash invested reflects the persistent low level of interest rates on short term U.S. government securities, certificates of deposit and money market accounts.

Interest expense was $1 and $4 for the three and six-month periods ended September 30, 2015, compared with $3 and $6 for the same periods ended September 30, 2014.

The effective tax rate in the current quarter was 33%, and was 32% in the first six months of fiscal 2016. The effective tax rates for the comparable three and six month periods of fiscal 2015 were 33% and 34%, respectively.

Net income for the three and six months ended September 30, 2015 was $1,976 and $4,337, respectively, compared with $4,186 and $6,578, respectively, for the same periods in the prior fiscal year. Income per diluted share in fiscal 2016 was $0.20 and $0.43 for the three and six-month periods, compared with $0.41 and $0.65 for the same three and six-month periods of fiscal 2015.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The following discussion should be read in conjunction with our Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets and Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows included in Item 1 of this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q:

Table of Contents

	September 30, 2015	March 31, 2015
Cash and cash equivalents and investments	$ 62,416	$ 60,271
Working capital	82,007	81,367
Working capital ratio(1)	4.2	3.7

(1) Working capital ratio equals current assets divided by current liabilities.

Net cash generated by operating activities for the first six months of fiscal 2016 was $7,699, compared with $8,490 generated by operating activities for the first six months of fiscal 2015. Compared with the first six months of fiscal 2015, the decrease in cash generated was due to lower net income, decreases in accrued compensation and customer deposits, mostly offset by an improvement in unbilled revenue.

Dividend payments and capital expenditures in the first six months of fiscal 2016 were $1,620 and $523, respectively, compared with $810 and $4,096, respectively, for the first six months of fiscal 2015. The higher dividend payments were due to a 100% increase in the quarterly dividend which was announced in January 2015. The lower capital expenditures were due to the higher level spent in fiscal 2015 related to the expansion of our Batavia facility.

Capital expenditures for fiscal 2016 are expected to be between approximately $2,000 and $2,500. Approximately 90% of our fiscal 2016 capital expenditures are expected to be for machinery and equipment, with the remaining amounts expected to be used for information technology and other items.

Cash and cash equivalents and investments were $62,416 on September 30, 2015 compared with $60,271 on March 31, 2015, up $2,145, or 4%. In addition, $3,399 of cash was used in the first six months of fiscal 2016 to repurchase common stock under our previously disclosed stock repurchase program.

We invest net cash generated from operations in excess of cash held for near-term needs in short-term, less than 365 days, certificates of deposit, money market accounts or U.S. government instruments, generally with maturity periods of up to 360 days. Our money market account is used to securitize our outstanding letters of credit, which reduces our cost on those letters of credit. Approximately 95% of our cash and investments is held in the U.S. The remaining 5% is invested by our China operations.

Our revolving credit facility with Bank of America, N.A. provides us with a line of credit of $25,000, including letters of credit and bank guarantees. In addition, our Bank of America agreement allows us to increase the line of credit, at our discretion, up to another $25,000, for total availability of $50,000. Borrowings under our credit facility are secured by all of our assets. We also have a $5,000 unsecured line of credit with HSBC, N.A. Letters of credit outstanding under our credit facilities on September 30, 2015 and March 31, 2015 were $11,156 and $10,903, respectively. There were no other amounts outstanding on either of our credit facilities at September 30, 2015 and March 31, 2015. Our borrowing rate for our Bank of America facility as of September 30, 2015 was the bank's prime rate, or 3.25%. Availability under the Bank of America and HSBC lines of credit were $18,844 and $19,097, at September 30, 2015 and March 31, 2015, respectively. We believe that cash generated from operations, combined with our investments and available financing capacity under our credit facility, will be adequate to meet our cash needs for the immediate future and to support our growth strategies.

Orders and Backlog

Orders for the three-month period ended September 30, 2015 were $20,601, net of $3,855 cancellation from backlog (gross orders were $24,456), compared with $35,403 for the same period last year, a decrease of $14,802, or 42%. For the three months ended September 30, 2015, orders in all markets were lower, with the largest decrease in refining orders, which were down $8,682. This included the cancellation of a $3,855 order in the second quarter of fiscal 2016. Orders in power decreased by $4,028, chemical and petrochemical orders decreased by $1,040 and orders from other commercial and industrial applications, including the U.S. Navy, decreased by $1,052. Orders represent communications received from customers requesting us to supply products and services.

During the first six months of fiscal 2016, orders were $44,577, compared with $66,511 for the same period of fiscal 2015, a decrease of $21,934, or 33%. For the first six months of fiscal 2016, refining orders decreased by $15,676, chemical and petrochemical by $4,024 and other commercial and industrial applications, including the U.S. Navy, by $2,731. Power orders were up slightly, by $497. See “Current Market Conditions” for additional information.

Domestic orders were 59%, or $12,150, while international orders were 41%, or $8,451, of total orders in the current quarter compared with the same period in the prior fiscal year, when domestic orders were 47%, or $16,724, and international orders were 53% of total orders, or $18,679.

For the first half of fiscal 2016, domestic orders were 61% of total orders, or $27,232, while international orders were 39%, or $17,345. During the first six months of fiscal 2015, domestic orders were 50% of total orders, or $33,105, and international orders were 50%, or $33,406.

Backlog was $108,139 at September 30, 2015, compared with $113,811 at March 31, 2015, a 5% decrease. Backlog is defined as the total dollar value of orders received for which revenue has not yet been recognized. Approximately 45% to 50% of orders currently in our backlog are expected to be converted to sales within one year, 5% to 10% are expected to be recognized between 12 and 24 months, and 40% to 45% beyond two years. The majority of these orders that convert beyond twelve months are for the U.S. Navy. At September 30, 2015, 27% of our backlog was attributable to equipment for refinery project work, 10% for chemical and petrochemical projects, 11% for power projects, including nuclear, 47% for U.S. Navy projects and 5% for other industrial or commercial applications. At September 30, 2014, 38% of our backlog was attributed to equipment for refinery project work, 21% for chemical and petrochemical projects, 13% for power projects, 21% for U.S. Navy projects and 7% for other industrial or commercial applications.

In the second quarter of fiscal 2016, as previously noted, one project totaling $3,855 was cancelled. This was part of a two phase project order for $7,827, which was received in the second quarter of fiscal 2015 and was placed on hold later in the same quarter. In the fourth quarter of fiscal 2015, one phase of the project valued at $3,972 was cancelled, while the other phase was taken off hold. The other phase has now been cancelled. At September 30, 2015, we had no projects on hold. We do, however, have between $15,000 and $17,000 in commercial projects with an extended conversion schedule, due to timing of our customers' projects.

Strategy and Outlook

The dramatic drop in oil prices which occurred during the second half of calendar 2014 has continued to affect investment activity in the refinery and petrochemical markets. The U.S. petrochemical market was very strong in fiscal 2014 and the broader global refining and petrochemical markets began to improve at the start of fiscal 2015. Our pipeline abruptly slowed in the second half of fiscal 2015 as our customers began to decrease their planned capital spending in reaction to lower oil prices. As a result, we expect fiscal 2016 will be weaker than fiscal 2015. In the first half of fiscal 2016, we continued to see tepid activity in the global energy markets. While the current slowdown shows no signs of abating, we continue to believe in the long-term strength of the energy markets.

We believe that our diversification strategy in the power market and with the U.S. Navy, coupled with an anticipated recovery in the energy markets, will support our strategy to grow our revenue to over $200,000 across the next cycle. We have invested to gain capacity to serve our commercial customers as well as to expand the work we do for the U.S. Navy. We intend to continue to aggressively seek organic growth opportunities. We also continue to search for acquisition opportunities that we believe will allow us to expand our presence in both our existing and ancillary markets. We are focused on reducing our earnings volatility, growing our business and diversifying our business and product lines.

We expect revenue to be approximately $95,000 to $105,000 in fiscal 2016, a decrease when compared with fiscal 2015. We expect gross profit margin in fiscal 2016 to be in the 27% to 28% range. The gross margin in the first six months of the year was 30%. This stronger margin in the first half of fiscal 2016 was driven by productivity improvements related to the CVN-79 U.S. Navy project, a vendor settlement and higher facility utilization in the first quarter. We expect continued pricing pressure in fiscal 2016. With the lower revenue expectations in fiscal 2016 compared with fiscal 2015, our production facility utilization and production overhead absorption is expected to decrease, which in turn is expected to put pressure on gross profit margins. Given this environment, while we have reduced our costs, primarily through a voluntary early retirement program, we have intentionally kept our workforce at a level in excess of our needs at the expected fiscal 2016 revenue level. We intend to keep our highly trained and knowledgeable workforce intact to focus on increasing service to our long-term customers during this period of lower demand and to be poised to take full advantage of the eventual energy segment upturn. We also intend to continue to invest in organizational capabilities and personnel to prepare for future growth. We believe this further enhances the value that our customers receive from Graham.

SG&A spending during fiscal 2016 is expected to be between 17% and 18% of sales. Our effective tax rate during fiscal 2016 is expected to be between 32% and 33%.

Cash flow in fiscal 2016 is expected to be strong as the build-up of accounts receivable and unbilled revenue which occurred in the latter portion of fiscal 2015 is converted to cash.

We will continue to look toward future growth while being mindful of near-term profitability, given short-term challenges.

Commitments and Contingencies

We have been named as a defendant in lawsuits alleging personal injury from exposure to asbestos allegedly contained in or accompanying our products. We are a co-defendant with numerous other defendants in these lawsuits and intend to vigorously defend ourselves against these claims. The claims in our current lawsuits are similar to those made in previous asbestos lawsuits that named us as a defendant. Such previous lawsuits either were dismissed when it was shown that we had not supplied products to the plaintiffs' places of work or were settled by us for immaterial amounts.

Table of Contents

As of September 30, 2015, we are subject to the claims noted above, as well as other legal proceedings and potential claims that have arisen in the ordinary course of business. Although the outcome of the lawsuits, legal proceedings or potential claims to which we are or may become a party cannot be determined and an estimate of the reasonably possible loss or range of loss cannot be made, we do not believe that the outcomes, either individually or in the aggregate, will have a material effect on our results of operations, financial position or cash flows.

Critical Accounting Policies, Estimates, and Judgments

Our unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements are based on the selection of accounting policies and the application of significant accounting estimates, some of which require management to make significant assumptions. We believe that the most critical accounting estimates used in the preparation of our condensed consolidated financial statements relate to labor hour estimates and establishment of operational milestones which are used to recognize revenue under the percentage-of-completion method, fair value estimates of identifiable tangible and intangible assets acquired in business combinations, accounting for contingencies, under which we accrue a loss when it is probable that a liability has been incurred and the amount can be reasonably estimated, and accounting for pensions and other postretirement benefits. For further information, refer to Item 7 “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” and Item 8 “Financial Statements and Supplementary Data” included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended March 31, 2015.

Off Balance Sheet Arrangements

We did not have any off balance sheet arrangements as of September 30, 2015 or March 31, 2015, other than operating leases and letters of credit.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

The principal market risks (i.e., the risk of loss arising from market changes) to which we are exposed are foreign currency exchange rates, price risk and project cancellation risk.

The assumptions applied in preparing the following qualitative and quantitative disclosures regarding foreign currency exchange rate, price risk and project cancellation risk are based upon volatility ranges experienced by us in relevant historical periods, our current knowledge of the marketplace, and our judgment of the probability of future volatility based upon the historical trends and economic conditions of the markets in which we operate.

Foreign Currency

International consolidated sales for the three and six months ended September 30, 2015 were 33% and 35%, respectively, of total sales compared with 39% and 31%, respectively, for the same periods of fiscal 2015. Operating in markets throughout the world exposes us to movements in currency exchange rates. Currency movements can affect sales in several ways, the foremost being our ability to compete for orders against foreign competitors that base their prices on relatively weaker currencies. Business lost due to competition for orders against competitors using a relatively weaker currency cannot be quantified. In addition, cash can be adversely impacted by the conversion of sales made by us in a foreign currency to U.S. dollars. In the first six months of each of fiscal 2016 and fiscal 2015, all sales by us and our wholly-owned subsidiaries, for which we were paid, were denominated in the local currency of the respective subsidiary (U.S. dollars or Chinese RMB).

We have limited exposure to foreign currency purchases. In each of the first six months of fiscal 2016 and 2015, our purchases in foreign currencies represented 1% of the cost of products sold. At certain times, we may enter into forward foreign currency exchange agreements to hedge our exposure against potential unfavorable changes in foreign currency values on significant sales and purchase contracts negotiated in foreign currencies. Forward foreign currency exchange contracts were not used in the periods being reported on in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q and as of September 30, 2015 and March 31, 2015, we held no forward foreign currency contracts.

Price Risk

Operating in a global marketplace requires us to compete with other global manufacturers which, in some instances, benefit from lower production costs and more favorable economic conditions. Although we believe that our customers differentiate our products on the basis of our manufacturing quality and engineering experience and excellence, among other things, such lower production costs and more favorable economic conditions mean that certain of our competitors are able to offer products similar to ours at lower prices. In severe market downturns, such as we are currently experiencing, we typically see depressed price levels. Moreover, the cost of metals and other materials used in our products have experienced significant volatility. Such factors, in addition to the global effects of the recent volatility and disruption of the capital and credit markets, have resulted in downward demand and pricing pressure on our products.

Project Cancellation and Project Continuation Risk

Adverse economic or specific project conditions can lead to a project being placed on hold or cancelled by our customers. In the second quarter of fiscal 2016, one project totaling $3,855 was cancelled. This was part of a two phase project order for $7,827, which was received in the second quarter of fiscal 2015 and was placed on hold later in the same quarter. In the fourth quarter of fiscal 2015, one phase of the project valued at $3,972 was cancelled, while the other phase was taken off hold. The other phase has now been cancelled. We attempt to mitigate the risk of cancellation by structuring contracts with our customers to maximize the likelihood that progress payments made to us for individual projects cover the costs we have incurred. As a result, we do not believe we have a significant cash exposure to projects which may be cancelled.

Open orders are reviewed continuously through communications with customers. If it becomes evident to us that a project is delayed well beyond its original shipment date, management will move the project into “placed on hold” (i.e., suspended) category. Furthermore, if a project is cancelled by our customer, it is removed from our backlog. At September 30, 2015, we had no projects on hold.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

Conclusion regarding the effectiveness of disclosure controls and procedures

Our President and Chief Executive Officer (principal executive officer) and Vice President-Finance & Administration and Chief Financial Officer (principal financial officer) each have evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)) as of the end of the period covered by this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q. Based on such evaluation, and as of such date, our President and Chief Executive Officer and Vice President-Finance & Administration and Chief Financial Officer concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were effective in all material respects.

Changes in internal control over financial reporting

There has been no change to our internal control over financial reporting during the quarter covered by this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q that has materially affected, or that is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.
